

Local Honey Shows in Avon

Honey displayed on the show bench is the shop window for our local product. Our honey is our best (or worst) advertisement for bees and beekeeping.

Honey offered for sale should be prepared to the same standard as that selected for the show bench. Avon Beekeepers are encouraged to use the opportunity of local shows to bring local honey, bees and beekeeping to the notice of the general public.

Avon Beekeepers are urged, not only to support their local branch show but to enter the open classes of other shows. Avon Beekeepers with some showing experience are asked to consider spreading their wings and enter the larger shows such as the Royal Bath and West and the National Honey Show.

Obtain a copy of the Show Schedule and prepare your exhibits in accordance with the instructions contained therein. There are not many classes to prepare for each local Show.

Have a go, it can be fun and very satisfying, who knows, your exhibits on the show bench may generate a local sales outlet for your honey. Click on guidance notes for helpful hints.

The main local shows are set out below. Please refer to secretary for classes and dates.
